Class Dates: Wednesdays: Jan 3-March 13 (0900-1200)

Acknowledging that we live and work in the traditional territory of the Kwanlin Dün First Nation and the Ta'an Kwäch'än Council.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course introduces students to person-centred practice related to palliative and end-of-life care. Issues faced by individuals and families while receiving palliative care and during the final stage of life will be explored as well as effective approaches to caring for these individuals and their families. Student self-reflection and increased awareness of their own experiences and thoughts on dying will also be encouraged to foster empathy, enhanced end-of-life care and the development of self-care strategies.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Prerequisite(s): None

Corequisite(s): Full-time enrollment in HCA program unless special permission provided by HCA Coordinator

EQUIVALENCY OR TRANSFERABILITY

Transfers not yet formalized through BCCAT, due to recent changes in BC Curriculum. Receiving institutions determine course transferability. Find further information at:

<https://www.yukonu.ca/admissions/transfer-credit>

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of the course, students will be able to:

- Explore the philosophy and principles of practice used in palliative care and hospice care settings
- Understand the holistic nature of palliative and end-of-life care, the process of dying and grieving and common reactions of individuals and families during this time
- Discuss the elements of legal/ethical practice in palliative and end-of-life care
- Understand the effects of a client's/resident's death and dying on their health care providers and methods to provide self-care to 'grieving' caregivers
- Explore caring and problem solving as they relate to end-of-life care for individuals/families.

COURSE FORMAT

This course will consist of lectures, group work, learning activities, and may include guest speakers and other methods to optimise learning. The format for each class will include:

- Opportunity for questions on previous material
- Introduction and integration of new material
- Assignments & preparation for next class

Each class will have 3 hours of direct instruction time over the total of 9 classes, plus the exam date (10th class). It is expected that this course will require 2-4 hours/week of homework and additional reading. The time required will vary by individual.

Delivery format

This course will be delivered through face-to-face sessions on-campus. Students will be required to adhere to public health guidelines. Zoom may serve as an alternative delivery format if needed.
